

“Don’t underestimate the power of flowers at your wedding. The impact, the smell and the romance of the flowers are worth it.”

—Emily Marford, 2016

THIS PAGE, ABOVE:

Arrange for your wedding coordinator or a close friend to bring the floral arrangements to the reception. Tie the ends to the back of dinner chairs for a colorful, romantic accent. This one by Phoenix was solid greenish, green gumballium orchids, blush lilies, roses, and more and more and more.

THIS PAGE, RIGHT:

A simple detail such as a green gumballium orchid on a plate is an elegant and effective touch. Place card calligraphy by Crystal Wings.

OPPOSITE PAGE:

Place a couple succulents on the royal table for extra drama. Just be sure to position each so they don't obscure guests from our angles. Floral design by Victoria Flowers by Tracy Leah.
